

Dylan Crowley

Web Developer

My goal is to build applications that I am passionate about and deliver a professional product and service to my employer/clients.

Experience

09/22 – 12/22

UCF Full MERN Stack Web Development Bootcamp

- This was a rigorous 3-month, full-time React based web development coding course. I learned how to use a variety of modern, web technologies and languages. I also learned how to work well in a team based setting, how to problem solve efficiently, and how to persevere under pressure. The cumulation of this course allows me to confidently say I am ready to start a career as a developer and I look forward to applying my skills and knowledge to improving the company I go to work for.
